

REVIEW

Almost Perfect: Disabled Pets and the People Who Love Them

publicity@wordforgebooks.com • www.wordforgebooks.com

PO Box 97 • Ferndale, PA 18921

Toll-Free 888-320-WORD • Fax 610.847.8220

Midwest Book Review
Victoria Kennedy, Reviewer

Almost Perfect:
Disabled Pets and the People Who Love Them

Edited by Mary A. Shafer
Word Forge Books
9780977132928 $12.95

Would you willingly take in a disabled pet and give it the best life you could? Almost Perfect tells the stories of women who did just that. They took in brave, wonderful animals badly in need of compassion, care and love. Without the women's kindness these trusting, sweet little creatures would not have survived. It took courage to give Cagney the crippled rat, Colbi, the blind husky-shepherd mix, Idgie, the blind cat, Ruby, the dog on wheels, Pink, the hairless dog and all the other animals a home. But none of the women felt disappointed or regretted their life changing decisions.

Each story wove a tale that tore at my heart as well as warmed it. Animals deserve our love and respect. It gave me hope to see so many caring and concerned people willing to chance hurt or possible failure in their humane undertakings.

Almost Perfect is an eye-opening look at disabled pets, and the joy they can bring to our lives. I recommend it to all animal lovers for inspiration, joy and hope in an often cruel and senseless world. For more information go to: <http://almostperfectpets.blogspot.com>